NEW PRESIDENT FOR MIDWAY UNIVERSITY

Will Be Announced at Present Meeting of Trustees—Dr. Judson Chief Candidate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Feb. 1.—The trustees of the University of Chicago were called to meet today and it is understood that an announcement will be made at an early date, probably today or tomorrow, of the decision of the trustees in regard to a successor to the late Dr. William R. Harper as the university's president. Prof. Harold Pratt Judson, who has directed the affairs of the university since Dr. Harper's death, is about the only one prominently mentioned for the presidency. The names of President Faunce of Brown university and several other equally distinguished educators have been mentioned recently by Dr. Judson as having become the only candidates. Moreover, he is understood to have the backing of John D. Rockefeller and it is true he is of course assured of the place. Dr. Judson has been connected with the University of Chicago, as professor of political science and dean of the faculties of arts, literature and science, since 1892. He came to Chicago from the University of Minnesota, where he had been professor of history for seven years. He is a native of New York and a graduate of Williams college.

THAW TRIAL HANGS ALONG; NEW RUMORS

Said That It Will Be Impossible to Secure Last Juror Today—Two More May Be Let Out.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Feb. 1.—The morning session of the Thaw murder trial ended today without a selection to complete the twelve needed to try the case. Thirteen talesmen were examined. The defense twice interposed peremptory challenges. Rumors that another juror, and possibly two, may be excused from further service in the case were again widely circulated. All hope that the taking of testimony can be reached before next week has been abandoned. The court will not sit tomorrow.

A sensation was caused in the

HOPES HARRY THAW WILL BE ACQUITTED

Mrs. B. D. Wixom of This City, Who Was Twice Housekeeper for the Family at Pittsburgh, Gives Her Impressions.

Mrs. Benjamin D. Wixom, 285 South Main street, who was housekeeper at the palatial Thaw mansion in Pittsburgh eighteen years ago and again about five years ago and who took care of the late William Thaw during a period of his last illness, reluctantly gave some of her impressions to a representative of the Gazette this morning. "I am deeply interested in the outcome of the trial," she said, "and I sincerely hope for the sake of the mother and sisters, as well as himself, that Harry Thaw will be acquitted. The late William Thaw was kind and generous to a fault. He gave indiscriminately and there were throngs of the poor about his house every morning, waiting for him to awaken and listen to their petitions for aid. Scarcely a day passed without his disbursing hundreds of dollars to the needy and his wife spends the larger portion of each day dictating answers to the many written calls for aid she receives, and directing the other charitable work which occupies so much of her time.

"Of Scotch descent and possessed of violent temper, they are nevertheless a fine family. The Countess of Yarmouth who often sat in my lap as a little girl was a beautiful child with a charming disposition. Harry Thaw, as a boy, was peculiar and somewhat different from the other children, but there was nothing of a vicious nature detectable in his nature. It is true that the shape of his head is not exactly normal and it is probably true that in his later years he traveled in fast company, since his father, who died leaving a fortune of $400,000, cut him off with an income of $2,500 a year. His mother, however, indulged him and he traveled much, enjoying many advantages which do not come to the average person. I do not believe he wronged or took advantage of anyone, and in this respect, it seems to me, he differed from Stanford White. The Countess of Yarmouth's statement that her brother was justified in his act, is very convincing to me, for she is not the kind of a woman who would uphold wrong, even in one of her own family. The brothers, Edward who lives in New York and Josiah who resides in Pittsburgh, are bright and capable business men and the sister, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, is a woman of high purpose and character."

"That the esteem in which she holds the Thaw family is reciprocated, is evidenced by the many remembrances which the various members have sent to Mrs. Wixom from time to time. One of the most valued of these is a recent photograph of the Countess of Yarmouth.

FACTS CONNECTED WITH BROWNSVILLE RAID TO BE SHOWN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 1.—According to present plans the court-martial called by Gen. McCaskey, commanding the department of Texas, will convene at Fort Sam Houston on Monday next for the trial of Major C. W. Penrose and Capt. E. A. Macklin of the Twenty-fifth infantry. Colonel George L. Brown, commanding the Twenty-sixth infantry, is president of the court, and First Lieutenant Charles E. Hay, Jr., Twenty-fourth infantry, acting judge advocate of the department of Texas. With one exception the court is composed of officers attached to the department of Texas. The exception is Major E. D. Hoyle, artillery corps, who is especially detailed by the chief of staff at Washington to complete the quota of the court. JOKES AND PLAYS CARDS IN SIGHT OF DEATH CHAIR

Convicted Of Murder Two Years Ago, Fred Castor Still Hopes Sentence Will Be Commuted To Life Imprisonment.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—Three times sentenced to death and three times reprieved, Fred Castor, a young man of respectable family, sings and jokes in his cell in the penitentiary annex while awaiting the result of the final efforts of his counsel to save his life. Should these efforts fail the young man will be put to death two weeks from today.

Castor has been, virtually in the shadow of the death chair for nearly two years, but in all that time he has never displayed the slightest evidence of fear or despondency. The penitentiary annex is now filled to overflowing with condemned murderers sentenced to death, and though Castor's case appears the most desperate of them all he is the most hopeful prisoner of the lot. Each time he has been apprised of the date fixed for his electrocution he has received the news as calmly as he did the first sentence of death, when he said "Well, shoot me full of electricity until I'm dead." He spends his time joking with the guards or playing cards with his fellow prisoners. A part of each day he takes regular exercise in order to keep himself in good physical condition. He has never been sick an hour during the long period of his confinement.

Castor's alleged crime was the murder of Daniel E. Davis, a member of the Columbus police force. Davis and other officers surprised Castor and his pals in the act of burglarizing the residence of Horace L. Chapman, a prominent coal operator and former democratic candidate for governor of Ohio. With a companion, Castor was making his escape from the house when he almost ran into the arms of the officer. Shots were exchanged, and subsequently the officer was found mortally wounded.

An investigation following his arrest showed that Castor, though still young in years, had a long criminal record. His home was in Flint, Mich., where his parents still reside. They have worked constantly to save their son from the electric chair and through their efforts a petition containing the signatures of thousands of people living in Michigan has been presented to the governor asking for a commutation of the death sentence to one of life imprisonment. To counteract these efforts to save Castor the police officers of Columbus circulated a petition asking that there be no interference with the original sentence. Castor himself appears confident that his sentence will be commuted.

BEGAN CUTTING
IN MAIN RIVER

CITY ICE CO. TODAY EXTENDED OPERATIONS BEYOND BAY.

NEW HOISTING MACHINERY

Workman Given Bath by Breaking of His "Float"—Hundreds Visit Harvest Field.

Now is the height of the ice harvest season, the City Ice company having this morning extended its operations beyond the bay into the main river.
The work of cutting was begun about nine o'clock Wednesday morning and weather permitting will be completed by the end of next week or during the early part of the following. The

WHERE THE ICE IS CUT

scene is a busy one and more interesting than ever, the old "horse lift" having been replaced by modern hoisting machinery. It is like a continuous vaudeville show, spectators coming and leaving from morning till night. The "gallery" this afternoon was larger than on either of the two previous days.

Ice of "Excellent Quality"
The ice taken from the bay Wednesday and yesterday was of excellent quality, being clear, as crystal and of such thickness that the upper portion was planed off before the cakes were stored. Beyond the bay a patch of dirt-streaked ice was encountered and much was discarded, after being cut. This ice formed on the night of Saturday, January 19. It will be remembered that a rain storm on that day and the preceding Friday resulted in the breaking up of the main river's covering. When the temperature suddenly dropped much floating ice was frozen along the borders of the new formation. Though this deflection is entirely a mineral impurity, the freezing process destroying all animal and vegetable impurities, the local company is unwilling to store this discolored product. This streak of poor ice was passed this afternoon and the cutters are now at work on a clean field.

Hundred Men at Work
Nearly a hundred men are engaged in the harvesting. Two teams are used in scraping off the snow and marking and a third will be added tomorrow. Several men are sawing, while others, armed with ice hooks and spears, are conducting the cakes through the canal and splitting them into the proper size for storage. The canal leads to the hoisting apparatus, by which the ice is carried to the warehouse. Formerly a team of horses, furnishing power for block and tackle, lifted four double cakes at a time. Now the double cakes are pick-

A Reasonable Plea
For The Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Powers, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs
Nothing To Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.
Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., Temple Chambers, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable, or mineral poison. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of the opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendation of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy.
One grain of these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest 3, 000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

ried up the runway by an endless apron and dropped at any desired height, by the removal of a portion of the runway. Then workmen skid the cakes along the scaffolding and into the house, where a packing of sawdust and shavings is put on.

Thirteen Thousand Tons
One feature of the machinery is the adjustable shaving knife, which being placed above the runway, removes the upper layer of inferior ice.
This machinery, with the addition to the lower warehouse, cost the company $4,500. The apparatus was purchased of and installed by Gifford,

ROUND A COAL STOVE WITH THE FISHERMAN
A Few Tales in Natural History Told
During the Cold Winter Days.

If anyone but J. A. Sutherland, who has seen and known more of Nature than most men, had told some of these anecdotes the listener would probably have proposed a new name for membership at the next meeting of the Ten Larks. But the man who questioned at least one of them was long ago punished in a peculiar fashion for his lack of faith, and this should serve as a warning for the doubting Thomases.

It all started innocently enough.
Mr. Sutherland was telling about a robin which had been fluttering around in the rear of the South Main street bookstore during the recent cold snap and advanced the theory that many of these birds yearly neglect to join the excursion southward and remain in the vicinity all winter.

That reminded him of the one-legged robin which for several seasons made its headquarters at his door-yard and was presently persuaded to eat from his hand. He found the poor little creature helpless and exposed to the peril of the neighborhood cat, soon after the accident occurred and placed it in a secure spot where, in the course of time, it recovered sufficiently to hop about on one limb, dragging the useless member along and tumbling in an awkward heap whenever it tried to pull an angle-worm out of the ground. One day the bird's benefactor took pity on its plight and dug some worms for it in the backyard. After that whenever he picked up a spade the little cripple would come swooping down from some unseen lookout and dance around blithely and ridiculously as he turned up the rich and writhing soil.

What the connection was has been forgotten, but Mr. Sutherland was next led to tell of the rather unusual incident of the co-operating corner-ants of Lake Koshongong and the strange battle of the hen-hawk and the fish-hawk. The water was high and the "gulls" were hovering about the tops of the partially submerged trees and giving utterance to their shrill cries as he pushed his skiff into a new made cove. As he lashed the painter to one of the trunks and cast a glance over the lake he saw one of these gulls struggling in an effort to raise an immense fish from the water. Several times the bird was pulled under the surface and several more times there was an impatient flapping of wings just above the water. Then, suddenly, from the tree to which his boat was tied, a big commoner flew down to aid his fellow.
Together they tugged the vicious monster from the lake and together they carried it, battling against the crucial clutch of their talons, to a tree.
No. 2 gull, far from insisting on a share in the prize or snatching it away as might have been expected of a mere sea-hawk, quietly and noiselessly, once its errand of assistance and relief had been fulfilled, left No. 1 in the full enjoyment of the repast and returned to its own fishing.

It was on another occasion that the fish-hawk succeeded in capturing a gold-sized carp and, far up in the heavens, was contentedly winging its way to the distant sky-line, when a hungry hen-hawk espied him and gave pursuit. Attacked from the rear the fish-hawk dropped his burden and to which his boat was tied, a big commoner flew down to aid his fellow.
It seemed to the observer, when the hen-hawk with a downward swoop had seized Mr. Carp in its claws, the hen-hawk was now forced to defend itself and presently, in the battle which followed, also let go of the fish.
Down went the sucker-patriarch again and this time it was the fish-hawk that dipped in its airy flight and nabbed his old prisoner. For many minutes the fortunes of war swung back and forth in the manner recounted until the hen-hawk, worsted and weary gave up the fight and the fish-hawk continued its interrupted journey with the day's big catch.

There was a sportsman from Chicago who took no pains to conceal his dislike for ripples when Mr. Sutherland talked about "shooting black-bass." One day he nobly offered to accompany the Janesville men on one of these shooting-trips and carry home all the spoils accumulated in that (to him unheard-of) manner. It was a good long mile through the woods to the particular spot which Mr. S. had selected for the submarine hunting and he quietly chuckled to himself and accepted the challenge. Now the nimrod-fisherman knew from some quiet observations he had made that the blood-sucker clinging to the under-surface of the soft-shell turtle is esteemed as a great delicacy by the black-bass. He also knew where a whole colony of the soft-shells were spending the summer, close to the banks of the then placid Rock. His first act upon arriving there was to a few boulders which sent the turtle tribe skittering for the deep water.

Then, as they began to poke their heads up for an observation and cautiously made their way towards shore again, the fusillade began. For the big bass were right on deck, waiting for just this thing to happen. Now a fish whose bladder has been broken will sink and Mr. Sutherland had long before foreseen this occasional contingency and trained his faithful buldog to do the diving act. "Sport," if that was his name, would go down and treading water with his hind legs, take an observation. Once he had located the fish he made for the bottom of the stream with unerring accuracy and in a minute or two he had the prize ashore. The Chicago man watched these proceedings with growing wonderment and alarm as a good sized steel-barrow load of the "gamey" fellows was rapidly accumulating. But when Mr. Sutherland told him that the huge bass were usually busy prospecting in pairs on either side of the "crazy" red-horse, and that he proposed to demonstrate this proposition, the visitor begged him to cease firing and let up. But even as his protestations were waxing almost fearful the Janesville man escaped a big red-horse overturning small rocks along the bottom and a whopping big bass on either side of the sucker friend, darting after the crawfish who hiding-places were from time to time exposed. He waited until the three were in line and then fired a single shot. Three big fish rose to the surface belly-up to the sun. The Chicago man stringing up the fish on a long willow branch and bending the ends together tried to drag the day's catch home. Crouching under their weight and cursing the folly and simplicity of that shallow skepticism which had betrayed him into the hands of the enemy, the city sportsman toiled painfully homeward, stopping to rest at the end of each dozen yards. After Mr. Sutherland had been home an hour and his companion had failed to put in an appearance, he forgave and dispatched a boy and a wagon to intercept and relieve the poor fellow.

EMPLOYEES GUESTS
OF MANUFACTURERS

Willson Brothers of Edgerton Entertained Laboratory Workers and Salesmen.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Jan. 31.—On Tuesday, Jan. 29, the Willson Brothers, proprietors of Willson's Monarch laboratory, held their first annual round-up of their traveling salesmen. Of the hundred and a quarter of salesmen scattered into the various states of the union about forty-five from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa responded to the invitation extended. The morning was occupied in an inspection of the laboratory and in experiments conducted by B. C. Willson. The regular business session was called in the office at 1:30, which opened with an address of hearty welcome given by B. C. Willson. Robt. Bruhn, who started out fourteen years ago as an agent for the company and whose home is in Edgerton, told the visiting friends "How Monarch Laboratory Grew." A. C. Schmitt of Racine and Kosmosha Co. who is acknowledged as the most successful salesman of the company spoke on "My Success and Why I Succeeded." Geo. E. Sanger of Beloit gave a very fine talk on "Cutting Prices," which could not help but be instructive as well as of interest to his hearers. B. C. Willson then discussed "Pure Foods and Pure Food Laws" and a general discussion followed. At 6 p. m. the salesmen and the employees of the establishment were served a banquet in the parlors of the Congregational church. The menu follows: chicken-pie, mashed potatoes, tongue, pickles, olives, rolls and coffee, fruit salad, wafers, brick ice cream, cake. During the supper the 62 guests enjoyed musical numbers. Misses Edith Matress and Edna Willson each gave two vocal selections; G. G. Baumgartner and Miss Madge Willson several violin duets, and Miss Edna Willson two piano solos. Following the banquet all adjoined to the offices of the laboratory for a general good time.

Firmen's Ball
The twenty-second annual ball of the Edgerton Volunteer Fire department was held in Academy hall on Wednesday evening. Knell & Hatch of Janesville furnished the music for the dancing and gave a concert from 8 till 9. Supper was served at the Don Ton restaurant. The usual good, large crowd turned out to show the department their appreciation of their efforts and the "boys" showed their guests the usual good time which is always expected at "The Annual Firmen's Ball."

Escaped from Sanitarium.

City Marshal Appleby has been requested by Rockford authorities to keep a sharp lookout for William Phalen, demented, at one time a student at the school of telegraphy here and a man about 32 years of age. Phalen escaped last Monday from the sanitarium conducted by Dr. Ransom in the Forest City and inasmuch as he had often expressed a desire to visit friends in Janesville, it is believed that he took this direction, at least. A brother arrived here last evening and is assisting in the search.

Cooper Preparations Are Main Topic in Queen
City.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY.

Interviews Obtained With Many Callers at Young Man's Headquarters.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 31.—The most interesting feature of the enormous sale of the Cooper preparations, now going on in this city, is what the medicines are, actually accomplishing among the people of Cincinnati.

At the commencement of his visit here Mr. Cooper prophesied that during the latter part of his stay he would receive hundreds of calls from what he called simply to thank him for what the preparations had done. He also stated that stomach trouble is the foundation for a great many diseases and that his New Discovery, as it is called, would prove very effective in all cases of rheumatism simply by getting the stomach in working order.

That this prophecy has been fulfilled cannot be doubted after a half hour spent at the young man's headquarters listening to what his callers have to say.

A reporter, who watched to ascertain, if possible, some light on the reasons for the immensity of Cooper's success interviewed about twenty of his callers yesterday afternoon. The statements made by those seen indicate that physicians who claim that Cooper is merely a passing fad, have not looked into the facts.

Some of these statements were as follows: Miss Sallie Middleton, living at 1577 Central Av. upon being questioned, said:

"I have been troubled with general weakness, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness and stomach disorders for a number of years, suffering all the time with my kidneys and back. I had tried a number of medicines and visited several doctors but none helped me.
I heard on all sides of these Cooper remedies and decided to try them.
Any one who says that they do not know wonderful medicines, does not know what they are talking about. After I used the first bottle, I noticed a decided improvement. I have taken three bottles of the New Discovery and I now feel as well as I ever have in my life. I sleep and eat as I have not done for years, and I am happier than I have been for a long time. I have come here to thank Mr. Cooper for what he has done for me."

The statement of Mrs. M. E. Emerson, living at 620 W. Court St., was as follows:

"I have suffered with stomach trouble and constipation for a year or so.
When I ate I would have bloated spells, sour stomach, fermentation bad taste in the mouth. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I had a dull pain in the lower part of the back. I have taken almost one bottle of the New Discovery and I am wonderfully improved that I have come down here to thank Mr.
Cooper in person and obtain more of the medicine."

Another statement was made by Mr. E. Lukin living at 1006 Gest St., who said: "I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for several years. I could not walk or stand on my feet when Mr. Cooper came to Cincinnati. Nothing helped me in any way and I despered of finding relief. I was in a general run-down condition, also, and had some stomach trouble. Hearing of his wonderful work my father consulted him regarding my case and purchased a bottle of his New Discovery.
After I had finished that one bottle I was able to walk down town and see him myself."

"I have continued to take this wonderful medicine and I am now without a sign of rheumatism. My general health is also greatly improved and I have not felt so well for years.
I would not have believed that there was a medicine on earth that would do what this has done for me. I am so much happier that I am very grateful to the man that has made it possible for me to regain my health. He has the most wonderful medicine that I know anything about."

Other statements taken from those who had previously used the medicines seem to prove that Cooper's success throughout the country is genuine.

DEDICATION OF NEW
EDGERTON LIBRARY

Elaborate Program on Wednesday Marked Formal Opening of Beautiful Edifice.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Jan. 31.—The public library of the city of Edgerton which has just been completed was dedicated on Wednesday, Jan. 30, with two public gatherings. In the afternoon at three o'clock the children had a special program which was opened by an invocation by Rev. Parr and followed by special music. L. C. Whittel, the chairman for the afternoon, gave an introductory address and introduced Miss Sterns of the library commission, who left some helpful thoughts with the children. The evening's program began at 7:30 and was opened by an invocation given by Rev. L. A. Parr. Following which the male quartet consisting of L. A.
Parr, F. L. Burdick, E. M. Roethle and F. D. Lyon gave a much appreciated selection. L. E. Gettle in his introductory gave a brief sketch of the importance of the children's work. In the absence of L. H. Towne by sickness L. A. Parr read Mr. Towne's paper on "The Story of Our Library."

Mr. Towne traced the growth of the library from our first start with a fund of $50 per year taken from the fund apportioned to the hire of teachers, until we have the present library of today with $1,000 as annual expense fund and with 2250 books on our shelves. Our library was built on the site and partially remodeled from the Baptist church which was given to the city by the Baptist association and the heirs of John and Eliza Cul-ton who also held an interest in the building. On the main floor of the building are five rooms, four small ones and the main room of the library. Of the four small rooms one is for the board of directors, one a reference room, one for the librarian and one a women's room which was furnished by the Club women of Edgerton. The furniture on this floor is in mission style and the light fixtures in colonial pattern, making a very cheerful, homelike room. The room below is called The Culton Memorial Hall and will seat 350 people.

It is finished in light oak and the seats are cherry colored, making it a very pretty audience room. The building was completed and the board are to be congratulated. In many ways than one and one most unusual way that of still having funds at hand. To the $10,000 Carnegie gift and public subscription Florence and Harold Child added $2500, thus giving us one of the finest library buildings in the state and this free from all debt.

DECISION THAT HAS
BEARING ON FUTURE

Decision by Judge Grimm Is Far-reaching in Its Scope—Effects Many Cities.

Judge Grimm recently handed down a decision favorable to the plaintiff in the suit of B. A. Ralph et al. vs. the City of Ft. Atkinson, that has a bearing upon cities throughout the entire state and settles for the time being a much disputed question. The point at issue decides that a city can grade its streets and repel water but it can not collect and discharge such water upon property of private individuals.
Mr. Ralph retained A. M. Webb of Ft. Atkinson as his attorney and E.
D. McGowan of this city was retained as counsel.

Judge Grimm overruled the demurrer of City Attorney W. H. Rogers of Ft. Atkinson to the complaint with costs of $10 against the city. The statement of facts which Judge Grimm thinks constitute a sufficient cause of action are as follows: That the city has in the past and still continues to collect through its public streets large quantities of water raining and flowing in upon a large tract of land, in the city of Fort Atkinson, which, prior to the injury complained of, was in a high state of cultivation and capable of producing large crops of corn, grain, fruit and vegetables; that by reason of the defendant's acts a part of said land is constantly covered by water and that other parts are met, boggy and entirely useless for any purpose whatever; that such water is conducted to points adjacent to plain-tiff's land, where it casts and discharges it in channels made for that purpose in a considerable stream or volume on said land, in fact, in a steady, continual and perpetual stream; that the water thus discharged has created a pond of water seven acres in extent on plaintiff's land. The words steadily, continual and perpetual stream are deemed by the judge to indicate a source of supply aside from what naturally falls upon the land in rain or snow.

MILTON JUNCTION
PLANS BUILDINGS

Coming Year Promises to See Great Increase in the Building Line.

Milton Junction, Wis., Feb. 1.—The Milton Junction Telephone says it is said by local contractors that the coming season will be a busy one in the building line. While it is too early to speak for certain the predictions are that the building operations will increase not only residences but that two more business blocks are to be erected on Main street. The past two years have seen more activity in the building industry than any similar length of time for a period of ten or twelve years previous. This is regarded as a good omen by those who have the town's future at heart.
Should the much talked of electric line be built this year the demand for residences will greatly exceed the present supply and many more will have to be erected, the expectation of this is supposed to be partially responsible for the predicted activity for the coming season.

MERCURY DOES NOT CURE BLOOD POISON

While Mercury and Potash may mask the disease in the system and cover up the outward symptoms for awhile, they cannot cure Contagious Blood Poison; when the treatment is left off, the disease will return worse than before. Mercury and Potash eat out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, produce chronic dyspepsia, cause the teeth to decay, make spongy, tender gums, affect the bones and nerves, and often cause Mercurial Rheumatism, the most hopeless form of this disease. Thousands have taken the mineral treatment faithfully for years to find, when it was left off, that the disease had only been smoldering in the system, and the old symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, falling hair, copper-colored spots, swollen glands, sores and ulcers, etc., would return in all their hideousness, and they were no nearer a cure than when they first commenced the treatment. S. S. S. is the only certain, safe and reliable treatment for Contagious Blood Poison. It is the one medicine that is able to go into the blood and cure the disease permanently, and without injury to any part of the system. S. S. S. does not cover up anything, but so completely removes the poison that no trace of it is ever seen again. This medicine will also remove any bad effects left by previous mineral treatment. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks; we offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral in any form. Write for our home treatment book, and if you desire special medical advice, our physicians will be glad to furnish it, as well as the book, free of charge.

Robert Burns Brown

Robert Burns Brown, the newly elected head of the C. A. R., was born on October 2, 1844, at New Concord, O., and attended the public schools at New Concord. He then graduated at Eastman's Business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He studied law for three years, but never practiced, and went into newspaper work. He married Miss Evaline Waters on May 18, 1887, at Janesville, O. He served in the Union army, making a splendid record for bravery on the field from August 9, 1861, until December 27, 1865. He made a marked success in journalism and became finally the editor of the Janesville Courier and is now the business manager of that well-known paper.

Before The Footlights.

All lovers of Shakespeare will welcome the announcement of the early presentation here of an elaborate and superb production of "Taming of the Shrew" with the beautiful Florence Gale in her charming delineation of this most interesting comedy. Of her Katheryn in "Taming of the Shrew" at a recent performance in New Haven, the New Haven Union says: "With hundreds of people turned away, unable to obtain admission to the Grand Opera House last evening, which was packed from orchestra to dome to witness one of the most finished performances of 'Taming of the Shrew' ever presented. Miss Florence Gale and her admirable supporting company have reason to be congratulated. 'Taming of the Shrew' was splendidly presented and most enthusiastically received by a very critical and thoroughly representative audience. In the boxes were many of the Yale faculty, including Dr. Reed, Prof. Beers, professor of English, and the first rows were filled with the Yale Dramatic Club, and there was a representative undergraduate audience present, and members of literary societies of note. As is the case with all of the immortal Bard's masterpieces, the success or failure of 'Taming of the Shrew' depends largely upon the interpretation of the two or three most important roles, and of these none is of greater importance than that of Katheryn. In last night's presentation this role was filled by Miss Florence Gale, and filled most acceptably to the large and critical audience which filled the house. Seldom has a more charming delineation of the character been seen by even the veterans whose recollections go back into decades. Into her part Miss Gale infused a charm that completely won her audience." Nan Oldfield is the curtain raiser. The "Taming of the Shrew" will be at the Myers theatre Monday, February 4.

One of the most popular attractions that visits our city is the famous Brother Byrne's new "Eight Bells" which will be seen at the Myers theatre Saturday, February 2, matinee and evening. This successful acrobatic pantomime comedy never grows old as each season so many changes are made, new pantomime tricks and features introduced that the annual visitor to "Eight Bells" is always surprised at the host of new novelties. This season there is no deviation from this rule as the comedy has been entirely rewritten, new characters introduced, new pantomime tricks invented and equipped with new scenery and effects. Of course the wonderful horse and carriage and the wonderful revolving ship are still retained, as these two effects are hard to duplicate. The company is by far the best the Byrnes have ever carried and the entire Byrne family are all playing their original parts. John F. Andrew and James positively appear at every performance, together with the famous John P. Byrne troupe of acrobats, six in number, who are now presenting one of the greatest acrobatic acts ever seen. Every one who has seen "Eight Bells" will want to see it again and those that have never seen it should not miss this opportunity.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, February 1, 1867.—Increasing the Number of Supervisors.—Mr. Foote has introduced a bill into the Assembly to increase the number of supervisors in this county to ten. It seems to us that in a county so densely populated as this that ten members of the board is none too many, and we think the bill ought to pass.

Arrested for Disturbing a Religious Meeting.—For a long time past the religious meetings of the colored people of this city, held at Hope Chapel, have been disturbed by a lot of rowdy boys who have congregated there for the express purpose of interrupting the exercises. And we are sorry to know that some of the young men who are old enough to know better have lent their countenance to these disgraceful practices. Those who worshipped there endured the annoyances until they were unbearable, and then made a complaint to the proper officers. An officer was accordingly sent there and two men named Henry A. Lyon and Nelson Henderson were arrested and brought before Justice Hudson today for trial.

Distillery Sold Out.—The distillery of Jacobson & Turner at Fort Atkinson, was sold out yesterday by the U. S. Revenue officer, for a violation of the laws made and provided for such establishments. It brought with the liquors also seized $1,516.20. Last spring the officers mulcted this firm in the sum of $2,152, and there is now standing against the same parties $1,552.54. The establishment sold out we learn is to be used for a tannery.

Nelson-Gans Fight Pictures.
Janesville fans will have an opportunity of deciding for themselves whether Nelson fought Gans or whether Geo. Siler, the fierce, gave the battle the name of the fight. The original fight pictures will be shown at Myers theatre Tuesday, Feb. 5th. Manager Johnny Reid, who was in Nelson's corner the day of the fight, accompanies the pictures with an interesting and intelligent explanation and lecture. He says the pictures are a most wonderful reproduction of every blow and incident in the most stupendous contest in modern history. The pictures are life-size and clean and show every movement of the contestants including the final blow. This fight took place in the largest open-air arena ever built, 40,000 feet of lumber being used in its construction. The final blow was taken at sundown, 7:20 o'clock mountain time, and the pictures are clear as crystal and every face in the tremendous throng in the big open-air arena is recognizable, showing the expression and anxiety of all the audience.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Snow tonight and warmer in eastern portion, Sunday clearing and colder.

AN EPOCH IN ETHNOLOGY

There could be nothing more joyous and inspiring than the announcement which comes hot foot—or hot wire—from San Francisco, that the Board of Education of that city has secured conclusive proof that the Japanese are Mongolians. It shows with what prodigious leaps and bounds the learning of the twentieth century is advancing. There was a young man in college, they say, who was asked by the professor of something or other, "Mr. Blank, what is electricity?" "Why—er—er—professor, I really forget!" "What a pity, Mr. Blank," replied the professor, "for you to have forgotten something which nobody else in the world has ever been able to find out!" That youth is far outdone by the San Francisco Board of Education. It has not only settled, surely and for all time what has hitherto been a much-controverted point, but it has secured the proofs and will not forget them, but will present them in open court for all the world to see, says the New York Tribune.

What a welcome accession of triumphant authority, the board will bring to those ethnologists who have hitherto contended that there were some remote traces of Mongolian origin, or at least of admixture, in the Japanese of today! Others, probably the majority, have failed to recognize such a trace, but have believed the Japanese to be a mixture of Ainu, Malay, Polynesian, Negroid and non-Mongol Tartar, and been unable to discern true Mongols outside of the comparatively narrow bounds of the East Mongols of Mongolia, Tangut and northern Tibet, the west Mongols of Sanguia, Turkestan and Russia, the Buriats of Transbaikalia and the Hazaras and Aimaks of Afghanistan. But now, lo! here comes this Board of Education, at one mighty bound outleaps their years of weary plodding, and with the chipper cocksureness of a bluejay on a corncrib roof proclaims to an awakened world that the Japanese are all Mongols, sure as you're alive, and that all the simon pure lineal descendants of Budantsar, Yesukai, Genghis Khan, Timour Leng and Baber are settled right there in Tokio—excepting such as are in San Francisco clamoring for admittance to the public schools!

Truly, it is an epoch in ethnology and philology. We shall be most interested to learn how the Board of Education found it out, and what the proof of it is. They could scarcely have found it written on some Jap's pocket handkerchief, because, as a pretty girl says in "The Mikado," the Japanese don't carry pocket handkerchiefs. We can hardly imagine that some Jap, has been blabbing and has "given the whole thing away," because the Japanese are proverbially close-mouthed, and, of course, the fact that they are all descended from a blue wolf or from the famous widow is the very last thing they would think of revealing. It is all very puzzling, but at the same time it wonderfully provokes anticipation. We shall certainly sit up of nights from this time on until we learn how the Board of Education found it out, and why it was that all the ethnologists who have been studying the matter for generations have failed to find it out before and so to settle the controversy which has been waged over the matter. It will be of interest to see if the board rests content with this achievement or goes on to solve some of the other questions which have long vexed the studious world.

Janesville is to become a first class postoffice shortly. It has passed the forty-thousand-a-year mark. This makes twelve first class offices in Wisconsin now and Mr. Valentine can take his seat with the best of them from now on.

New York is making a great deal to do about the presentation of "Salome" and the production is not to be again staged in that city. It is safe to say that when it comes to Chicago it will be a frost, not a ray enough for the Divorce Mill town.

The February thaw will probably bring out any number of candidates who seek to gain the limelight of publicity for their political aspirations. Count 'em?

Work on the gathering of ice throughout the county is reported from every hamlet. Janesville is also busy and a fine crop is being put up.

Justice Harlan and wife were given a house and lot by their children as a golden wedding present. Nice for the young couple to have to begin housekeeping on.

The discharge of Thaw jurors has become a regular feature of this trial. They go by twos and before long an association of jurors of the famous trial can organize a society of the survivors.

The Chinese appear to be starving by the thousands and aid for the suffering humanity will not be refused as was that offered to Kingston, China, does not tolerate a Swettenham.

This battle royal in prospect for Mayor is taking a phase of civic political life that is amusing. Before it gets over some one is going to be hurt pretty badly.

Carrie Nation made a call at the White House recently, but was refused admission. Roosevelt is too busy busting trusts to meet the woman who busts saloons.

William Jennings Bryan is in California. As he is delivering speeches at so much per it is safe to say he is enjoying himself and the balmy air.

Local candidates for aldermen are considering. Just considering, but the time will soon come when they will have to do more than consider.

The railroads announce that the lines through North Dakota are again open, but the residents along the lines have not yet been heard from.

The rebellion against the Dutch rule in Java has been put down and the real, genuine Java coffee article is again to be on the market.

Chicago has now fifteen thousand cases of contagious disease, all of which are attributed directly to impure milk. Think of that.

It would appear that Pittsburgh had been left to the care of a night watchman while the rest of the people attended the Thaw trial.

Senator Carter of Montana has ripped the lid off the department of the interior in a telling speech that will be wasted in effect.

One would hardly expect the sun and moon to be going around causing earthquakes just for the fun of the thing.

The Gridiron club of Washington grilled a few members who did not expect to be grilled at their last dinner.

The question of improving the water ways of the country appears to be absorbing much attention just now.

It is a safe bet that before election time of the present aspirants for city offices will be sorry they spoke.

The presentation of bills still continues to keep the attention of the legislature at a fever height.

Grover Cleveland again jumps into prominence by assuming a twenty-five thousand-dollar-a-year job.

Think of Raynor attacking Roosevelt the way he did! Shows the jealousy of the Senate all right.

Germany has changed its attitude towards American meats. Perhaps it is getting hungry.

Mr. Ground Hog is soon due. Wait for him before preparing for the spring trade.

The sidewalks of the city are not kept as clean of snow as they should be.

PRESS COMMENT.

Are You a "Tafter"?
Fond du Lac Reporter: The nickname has been work on the next campaign by christening the supporters of "Big Bill" Tafters.

Fish Yarns Maturing Early Exchange: A New Jersey fisherman caught a pickerel with $100 safely stowed away in its internal economy. Fish stories are ripe early this season.

Confusion in Beverages
Milwaukee Sentinel: "Turn on more ale, turn on more light; I will not go to bed tonight," warbles a St. Louis poet. Next, but "ale" in that town?

'Twould Be an Unwise Move El Paso Herald: Richmond Pearson Hobson thinks the Japs could capture the Philippines in a day. Maybe; but they'd repent a long time.

Eight Millions in Autos
Superior Telegram: In the few days of the latest automobile show in New York orders for cars were booked to the total value of $8,500,000. The "devil wagon" seems to have come to stay.

That Chattering Day
Milwaukee Journal: Chancellor Day has been talking again. Pretty soon the chancellor will be in the same class as the old lady whose husband asked if she were talking again "or yet."

Or Fuel for the Same
Chicago News: Cigar manufacturers in the United States have doubled their output in the last eight years. Thus it will be seen that a great deal of the country's prosperity is mere smoke.

The Celtic Revival
Exchange: A Dublin husband protested because his American wife didn't talk with a brogue; even carried his protests so far as to kick her into suing for divorce. That is carrying the Celtic revival pretty far.

As to Reforming the Tiger Exchange: Mayor McClellan is in the awkward position of the young lady who smilingly went out riding on the tiger with the naive hope of reforming it, and returned from the ride with the tiger outside.

A Pet Conviction of Ours
Chicago Record-Herald: A scientist reports that cold feet indicate great intellectual power and activity. The common supposition that cold feet indicate unusual wretched inclinations will probably continue, however, to prevail.

Same Here
Milwaukee Free Press: The Chicago Tribune has been printing the portraits of "The most beautiful women in Chicago." If it has made its selections with judgment Milwaukee has Chicago beaten to a frazzle on pretty women. It has anyhow.

Worth More Than Sheriff's Pelt
Exchange: John F. Dietz, the alleged outlaw of Cameron Dam, has shot several wolves and other bounty animals this winter. The most valuable animal to fall before his rifle was a silver gray fox, the fur of which is listed at from $200 to $300.

Casting Bread on the Waters
Boston Herald: The latest case of gratitude is that of the poor man to whom Mayor Tom Johnson lent $10 a few years ago and who has now returned it with the information that with this $10 as a starter he has since rolled up a million by betting on horse races. Be kind to the poor and sporty!

Trade Mark of a Man
New York Mail: Swearing as a habit is the mark of the imbecile, the vulgarian or the blackguard. But there is something wrong with the man from whose lips there never has sprung an oath unstudied and unexpected, but resonant with the full strength of resentment, indignation or the note of strife.

Odds Ever Against the Man
Exchange: Circuit Judge Fruit of La Crosse has set aside a verdict rendered against Albert Hansen for desertion. The court holds that a man has the odds against him in any case of the nature where a woman appears as the prosecutor and deems it only fair to the defendant to declare null and void the ruling.

La Follette's Big Profits
Chicago Chronicle: Senator La Follette of Wisconsin told a friend the other day that he had made $10,000 clear during the last lecture season, which was a short one because congress did not adjourn until July and the political exigencies in Wisconsin demanded much of the senator's time in that state. Mr. La Follette will resume his lecture tour early in the spring and keep at it until the close of the season. He expects to make not less than $25,000 on the platform this year.

Twenty Square Miles of Shaving Evening Wisconsin: "Having determined how many freight cars would be required to transport the Iowa corn crop, how many miles it is to Mars, how much it costs the average family to live, and all the thousand and one problems that have arisen since the days when theologians argued over the number of angels who could stand on the point of a cambric needle, some enterprising statistician has gone to work to figure out how many square miles of space the hand of the average man travels over in shaving. He announces that the man of average length of life shaves over twenty square miles."

A Plea the World Desires
La Crosse Leader-Press: The plea of temporary insanity has become a laughing stock. Nine men out of every ten of average intelligence will acknowledge that it is seldom, if ever, offered except when a defendant's case is so desperate that no other can be made. But the exception, the tenth man, goes on the jury because to man who appreciates the meaning of the temporary insanity plea is considered prejudiced and cannot be accepted. Therefore the 15 men who will try the case of Harry Thaw must be those rare creatures who believe that the defense offered in this case is in good faith and not presented, because there is no other on which there is the slightest chance to save the prisoner from the electric chair. It won't do to be certain what such a jury will do even in a case where the facts clearly prove the prisoner's guilt.

JANESVILLE SHOES FOR PANAMA NURSES

Misses Mary Humphrey and Bertha Knudson Send Fifteen Dollars to Local Merchant.

Though the Misses Mary Humphrey and Bertha Knudson, the two former Janesville young ladies who are in the service of the United States as nurses in the Canal Zone, Panama, are many thousand miles from here they still prefer purchasing their shoes in the Bower City. Amos Reberg has received a check for fifteen dollars from the two and has shipped several pairs of shoes, answering the descriptions forwarded with the money. The merchandise will be carried from New York city to its destination free of charge, the government franking all boat-carried goods addressed to their employees.

OBITUARY.

Patrick Tobin
Patrick Tobin, passed away at his home in Leyden at half-past nine o'clock last night. He was forty years of age and had spent the greater part of his life in Rock county, though he had resided at Leyden but a year, settling there after several years spent in Chicago. The deceased is survived by a wife and two children, Mary and Margaret. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church, Janesville, Sunday afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Broke an Arm: Mrs. John Goldsmith in stepping out of a sleigh to take the train for Beloit at Canville slipped and fell, severely fracturing one of her arms.

Harney-Lewis Case Appealed: Atty. Wm. Dougherty this morning took an appeal from the municipal court decision for the defendant in the action of G. C. Harney vs. Rollin Lewis, brought to recover on an insurance policy. The case will probably be tried during the February term.

THREE FINED FOR SABBATH SELLING

William Lenz, Edwin Brown, and Fred Luebke Each Paid $25 Penalties for Dispensing Liquor.

When William Lenz, proprietor of a saloon on South River street, missed several pails of pickled fish, beef heart, and cucumbers which was kept in stock for free lunches yesterday his suspicion fell on one Adam Max, a man whom he had employed to serve the edibles. Max was greatly incensed at the accusation and after he had lost his job he preferred a complaint against Lenz for selling liquor on Sunday. The latter appeared in court late yesterday afternoon and paid a fine and costs, amounting in all to $28.70. He then accused Max of stealing from him a coat which had been loaned to an erstwhile bartender but no warrant has been issued on the complaint. Meanwhile Max, who has been kept in confinement at the city lock-up, betought himself of some other liquor dealers who are alleged to have refreshed his thirsty soul on the Sabbath and as a result of his voluntary statements Edwin Booth, proprietor of the place at 74 South River street, and Fred Luebke, another South River street saloon-keeper, appeared in court this afternoon. Both denied that Max had ever been in their places of business on a Sunday, but pleaded guilty to the general charge. Fines and costs of $27.80 each were levied and collected. As Mr. Brown paid his he told the court something to the effect that he would cheerfully expend $100 more to get even with Mr. Max.

JACOB COHEN SUES FOR $200 DAMAGES

Failing to Get Redress Against the Dworkins in Municipal Court He Turns to Judge Reeder.

This morning, at the instigation of Jacob Cohen, represented by Atty. M. P. Richardson, Judge Reeder issued a civil warrant for Mrs. Mary Dworkin and Esther Ditz, parties to the Dworkin-Cohen feud which has been raging for several days past. The complaint alleges that on the 25th day of January at six o'clock in the afternoon the defendants broke into and entered the home at No. 1 Riverside street, premises owned by the affiant Cohen, smashed the glass in six windows with an axe and sledge hammer, destroyed a lamp worth $8; broke the gasoline stove and damaged the carpets with kerosene and gas; line; ruined the bread butter, and cakes; and committed assault and battery on the affiant with intent to do great bodily harm. For all of which Mr. Cohen asks damages, amounting to $200. When Constable Duin tried to serve papers on the two women this morning, they refused to accept them but tried to show him the black and blue spots they bore as a result of the alleged violence of the Cohen faction some days ago. Their husbands were finally located and are appearing in court for them this afternoon. Atty. J. J. Cunningham represents the defense and a date for the trial will probably be set sometime this afternoon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Conductor Joseph Lawler of Iowa is here to attend the funeral of his father.
Mrs. M. E. St. John of 253 South Third street is the guest of friends at Whitewater.

POSTOFFICE TO BE FIRST CLASS

JANESVILLE STANDS WITH FIRST CITIES IN STATE.

BIG INCREASE IN RECEIPTS

Though Beloit Made: Big Gain She Is Still Behind the Required Forty-Thousand Mark.

In all probability the Janesville postoffice will become a first class office after March 31, 1907. The one requirement for this advance is that the receipts for the fiscal year ending on that date exceed $40,000. There is scarcely a question but that they are. The grounds for this belief are the records of the calendar year 1906. During that period the receipts were $42,403.87, a gain of $4,690.39. Other cities that passed the $40,000 mark are Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Kenosha and Eau Claire. Beloit showed an increase of $6,556.53, but the total receipts were only $37,993.37. All Wisconsin cities of 10,000 or more population showed a gain with the exception of Racine.

FRANK NELSON DEAD
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Graduated from High School in 1903 and Was Prominent Among Baptist Young People.

After many months of suffering Frank Nelson died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bissell, 254 Locust street, at nine o'clock this morning. His last illness extended from the fourth of April, 1906. Tuberculosis of the spine wore away his strength, but his long suffering was borne with remarkable fortitude. He was born in Whitewater, April 7, 1887. His father, Nels Nelson, died in 1891 and the family removed to Janesville in 1894. Frank Nelson graduated from the local high school with the class of 1903, which he represented in the commencement exercises as poet. In the following September his first illness began, lasting ten months. He united with the Baptist church when twelve years of age and for many years he had been a prominent member of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. John Cunningham. No young man in the city had a larger number of friends, for his character possessed a singular charm. Of his immediate kindred there remain to mourn his death, his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bissell, a brother George and five half brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. R. M. Vaughan officiating. Interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

INMATES OF COUNTY FARM ENJOY OUTING

Hundred Men and Women Given Sleighride to City and Treated to Fruit, Et Cetera.

Inmates of both the insane hospital and the poor ward at the Rock county farm were given an enjoyable outing by the management today. Between fifty and sixty men were brought to the city in bob-sleighs this morning and about fifty women came this afternoon. Apples, tropical fruit, nuts, et cetera, were furnished while the worshippers of Nicotine puffed good weed. In the past the management has endeavored to make this an annual event, but the absence of snow last year interfered with the plan. The only inmates not taken were those who declined the invitation or whose physical condition would not permit.

The Value of a Sinking Fund
A sinking fund is a money set aside for payment of debts that mature in the future. Many cities have one. Every man should. You may be free from debt but a rainy day comes to all of us.

JAY COOKE, the great financier of war times said: "What in the process of time may intervene to help or hinder human plans is beyond the ken of any man."

There is no better way to invest your sinking fund than to own one of our certificates of deposit. They draw interest from the day the certificate is issued and are payable on demand. They can be easily cashed or transferred by your endorsement wherever you may be, and draw interest at 2 per cent if left four months and 3 per cent if left six months.

THE KNOW HOW

It is not enough that candy be pure—it should also be right in the making. Our candy maker is an expert. He has served his apprenticeship years ago under the best instructors. Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood. Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppuration, or running sores, and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating sores or ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed. If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic disease, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Nursing mothers and over-burdened women in all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken down by overwork, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating, restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a precious boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrh, drain, prolapsus, antenatal or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs, from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully, and fairly persistently, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture are original with Dr. Pierce, and they are extracted on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrap.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

THREAT OF MUTINY IS MADE

TROUBLE IN COLUMBUS BARRACKS OVER CHURCH ORDER.

Twenty-Five Catholic Soldiers Say They Will Not Obey Alleged Admonition to Attend Services.

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—Announcement was made Thursday that 25 Catholic soldiers at the barracks here have appealed to the war department against Lieut. Col. Glenn's order directing them to attend church services on Sundays. There is considerable excitement at the barracks regarding the order and the men who object to it declare that they will mutiny before they will obey it.

Washington, Feb. 1.—It was said at the war department that no report had been received respecting the recent alleged order of Lieut. Col. Glenn to the soldiers at Columbus barracks to attend divine service. Last week Lieut. Col. Glenn was officially informed by the department that he might order such soldiers as cared to attend divine services to organize in squads and proceed to their respective places of worship. If necessary a non-commissioned officer might be designated to conduct the squad to their churches, and see that the men were properly seated, but they were not themselves required to take any part in the services, and in fact no soldier in the United States army is required to do so.

It is assumed at the department that this last phase of the case has developed from some admonition by Lieut. Col. Glenn to his men to attend religious service of some kind, but the officials are confident that he did not order them to do so.

POET PLEADS FOR HIS SON.

W. H. Thompson Makes Pathetic Address in Murder Trial.

Tacoma Wash., Feb. 1.—Attorney Will H. Thompson, the poet, brother of Maurice Thompson, the novelist, Thursday began his address to the jury in behalf of his son, Chester, who for seven weeks has been on trial charged with the murder of Judge Emery at Seattle. His address was an oratorical effort of great strength, and brought tears to the eyes of the judge and jury. Even the attorneys for the state were overcome.

The aged attorney recited from his own poem, "The High Tide at Gettysburg," and commented on the fact that he had been a confederate soldier. He declared that he loved his boy and that he loved the law alike, and that he would not make an appeal for the son that was not within the law.
